

A scenic view of a river with sunlight reflecting off the water and logs floating in it. The water is dark blue-green, and the sunlight creates a shimmering effect across the surface. Several logs are scattered throughout the river, some partially submerged and others floating. The background shows a lush green bank with some trees and foliage.

Luke 20:24 Show me a penny.
Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Caesar's.