

Luke 22:02 And the chief priests
and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.

A photograph of a garden scene. In the foreground, there is a large, smooth, light-colored rock. To the left of the rock, a path is made of small, smooth, light-colored pebbles. The garden is filled with lush green foliage, including a dense patch of small white flowers. Several large, vibrant purple flowers are scattered throughout the scene, some in the foreground and some in the background. The overall scene is bright and sunny.
