

A close-up photograph of a yellow and pink rose, with the text overlaid on the upper portion of the flower. The rose is in full bloom, showing multiple layers of petals. The colors transition from a pale yellow at the center to a soft pink at the edges. The background is dark and out of focus.

Nahum 01:09 What do ye imagine against the LORD? he will make an utter end: affliction shall not rise up the second time.