

A decorative waterfall display featuring a central stream of water cascading over several layers of reddish-brown and grey rocks. The water is clear and glistening. The rocks are surrounded by various types of green plants, including moss and small succulents. The overall scene is set against a dark background, making the water and rocks stand out.

Genesis 13:05 And Lot also, which went with Abram, had flocks, and herds, and tents.