

A close-up photograph of several vibrant purple flowers, likely petunias, with green foliage in the background. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some fully open and others as buds. The text is overlaid in white, bold, sans-serif font across the upper portion of the image.

Job 27:12 Behold, all ye yourselves have seen it ; why then are ye thus altogether vain?