

A close-up photograph of a large, mossy rock in a stream. The rock is covered in green and yellow moss and is partially submerged in water. The water is flowing over the rock, creating small ripples and splashes. The background is dark and out of focus, showing more rocks and water.

Genesis 13:03 And he went on his journeys from the south even to Bethel, unto the place where his tent had been at the beginning,
between Bethel and Hai;
