

A close-up photograph of dark purple, almost black, leaves with prominent veins and serrated edges. Several small, clear water droplets are scattered across the leaf surfaces, catching the light. The background is softly blurred, showing more of the same foliage.

Zechariah 02:03 And, behold, the angel that talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him,