

A blurred background image of a yellow bird, possibly a canary, perched on a dark, textured surface. The bird is the central focus, though out of focus, with its bright yellow feathers contrasting against the dark background. The overall scene is dimly lit, with the bird's body catching some light.

Numbers 15:35 And the LORD said unto Moses, The man shall be surely put to death: all the congregation shall stone him with stones without the camp.