

A close-up photograph of a basket of flowers. The basket is filled with various types of flowers, including red, pink, and yellow blossoms with green leaves. The text is overlaid on the image in a white, serif font.

Hebrews 10:01 For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect.