

Job 10:21 Before I go whence I shall not return, even to the land of darkness and the shadow of death;

The background of the image is a dramatic sky at sunset or sunrise. The upper portion is a vibrant, bright orange, while the lower portion is dominated by large, dark, silhouetted clouds that create a sense of depth and shadow. The overall mood is somber and contemplative, which complements the text of Job 10:21.
